

The do not call law in New Jersey is an invaluable tool to protect the privacy of the home. It provides uninterrupted time for the family and individual. It also protects citizens from unsolicited calls about products they do not need or want.